

Popularity of lockers

Lockers are playing an increasingly important role in shipping shipments. According to a February survey by the Behavio agency, almost half of them of the people surveyed prefer pick-up points for parcel delivery, 38% of respondents prefer delivery to boxes.

Recipients choose lockers because they allow them to pick up or submit a parcel according to your own schedule, take advantage of a favourable price of this service and to be sure that everything will go as it should.

Advantages of delivery via boxes

The network of own lockers is a key indicator of the quality of pick-up points and represents a significant advantage, especially during the season, when their capacity remains free for their clients.

In the boxes, it is possible to conveniently pay cash on delivery via the GLS mobile application or payment terminal. This payment method saves time, contributes to convenience and security for both the sender and the recipient.

1000+ own lockers

GLS invests in the expansion of its locker network, thereby ranked among the three largest transport companies with their own boxes on the Czech market. In addition to almost a thousand of our own boxes GLS offers the possibility to send packages via shared AlzaBoxes. Thanks to this, it is possible to send packages through almost 5000 pick-up points, including boxes.
